THE California Democrats declare themselves "opposed to the surrender to Spain of any of the territory that has been acquired by American valor," which means that the C. D.'s want to "Hold dem Philippines."

THE war closes with an available cash balance of $271,957,512 in the Treasury of the United States, of which sum $199,409,389 is in gold. Has anybody seen a report from Spain's Secretary of the Treasury?

OFFICIALS in Havana fear that trouble is brewing, and still refuse to admit Americans, saying that the war was not over until the terms are known and accepted. They do not believe that Spain has lost two of her fleets and the biggest part of her armies in Cuba and the Philippines. Wonder if they know that the United States is on the map?

For strictly pure Paris Green call at Henry W. Ray's Postoffice Drugstore. Do-What's-Witch Hazel Salve has the largest sale of any Salve in the world. GIVE STREET NUMBERS.

Hereafter Maysville Pensioners Must Tell Just Where They Live.

Pension Commissioner Evans has issued an order to all Pension Examiners, Postmasters, Pension Agents and others that is being strictly carried out.

The order directs that every person in a free delivery city must be required to give, in stating Postoffice address in vouchers, a street and number.

A general delivery affords no protection to the Government or the pensioner, and no letter from a Pension Agency should be so addressed in any case in which it can possibly be avoided.

It is necessary to aid and co-operate with the Postoffice Department in carrying out rules and regulations, and Postmasters are called upon to aid the Pension Department in every possible manner.

The ruling is regarded by the Pension Examiners as a very wise one.

The main office in Washington often wants to investigate into the case of a pensioner concerning whom the officials were suspicious, and if a man gave a general delivery address it would be pretty hard to find him.

Pension sharks usually go to large cities and give a general delivery address.

The ruling will help the officials in dealing with such people.

FOR HOUSES OF REFORM.

The Trustees Decide to Buy a Farm Near Lexington, Ky., and Want Both Institutions Will Be Located.

LEXINGTON, Ky., Aug. 22.—The board of trustees of Kentucky's houses of reform are here, and after a long session decided to buy a farm near Lexington, five miles from Lexington. Contrary to Gov. Bradlee's interpretation of the bill creating the houses of reform, the house for the boys and the one for the girls will be located on the same farm. This is also in opposition to Mrs. Beauchamp's views, and she brought in a minority report against it. Her stand is that the houses must be located in different parts of the state to carry out the spirit if not the letter of the law. There will be a hard fight against putting both houses on the same farm, and the governor will support Mrs. Beauchamp.

TRAINS COLLIDE.

Terrible Accident on the New York, New Haven & Hartford Railroad.

TRAIN TELESCOPED AT SHARON, MASS.

Seven Persons Are Dead and Twenty-Six Were Wounded, Some of Whom Will Die.

A Passenger Train Was Standing at the Station When an Express, Without Warning, Rounded a Curve and Crashed Into the Standing Train.

SHARON, Mass., Aug. 22.—A frightful rear-end collision occurred in the Sharon station on the New York, New Haven & Hartford Railroad at 12:30 Sunday night, when an express train which was running as the second section of a long train, crashed into the first section, composed of local cars.

As a result six persons were killed and 26 seriously injured. The injured were nearly all removed to Boston on a special train, which was met by ambulances and surgeons. The rear car of the local train was completely demolished and a portion of the second car, while the engine of the express train was crippled. The dead are:

Franklin M. Waters, Somerville, Mass.

Mrs. William J. Fitzpatrick, Boston, her granddaughter, Mary Fitzpatrick, 10 years of age, and her grandson, five years old.

A woman supposed to be Mrs. Watson, of R. E. M. of the Revere.

The injured, some 26 in number, are mostly Boston people.

The two trains which were in the collision were usually combined into one long train, but as the traffic Sunday was so heavy it was divided, the first section running as a local accommodation, and the second, which started on the Mansfield 15 minutes later than the first, ran as an express.

The local train due at Sharon at 7:30 was 15 minutes late. It left Mansfield on time, making two stops, and had lost 13 minutes from Mansfield and Sharon. It was due in Canton Junction, the next station beyond Sharon, two minutes ahead of the express train, which should have passed it there. Sharon is situated on a curve and both the outward and inward tracks are protected by electric block signals.

After the accident it was thought the block signal protecting the inward track was set at danger, showing as it was intended, that there was a train in the station.

There was no warning given by the conductor of the Mansfield local to show that the express was on the track when he approached the station, and it was not until he was within 400 feet of the station that the engineer of the express noticed anything wrong. He immediately set all brakes and whistled the warning, but it was too late to stop the express.

It crashed into the rear car, splitting it in two and completely demolishing it with the exception of the roof. The speed was not unslashed until the engine had penetrated fully five feet in the rear of the second car. The escaping steam entered the car and badly scalded a number of the occupants. The roof of the last car was forced off on top of the engine of the express and remained there as the only portion of the car intact.

Eng. Getchell and Fireman Holmes, of the express both jumped when they saw that a collision was unavoidable. Getchell was cut and bruised about the head. He stated after the accident that he left Mansfield promptly on time and there was no incident until he was within 400 feet of the Mansfield train. Then he saw the lights of that train and shot off all steam. Meanwhile he had whistled for brakes and used every effort to stop his train.

Every one of the killed and injured were on the Mansfield train, and the only explanation of the fact that the number of fatalities is not larger is that the passengers were all in the forward end of the car in the act of alighting at the station. There were about 100 people in the last car and most of them at the time the accident were either upon the front platform or standing by the door.

Mary Fitzpatrick, ten years old, was taken from the wreck, but unconscious, and died just as the special train started for Boston. Twenty-two of the injured were taken on this train and four others, whose names they refused to disclose, remained in Sharon.

The scene about the little station at Sharon was a terrible one.

A large corps of surgeons and two undertakers arrived soon after the accident and immediately set to work to relieve the suffering and care for the bodies of the dead. There were very few instances of the extraction of the track, where the accident occurred, and the surgeons were compelled to do their work in total darkness.

C. R. Frye, select man of Revere, Mass., one of the injured brought to this city is dead, making the total number of dead seven.

THE BATTLE OF MANILA.

American Resistance Was Merely Nominal—The American Loss Was 40 Killed and About 100 Wounded.

Hono. Koro, Aug. 22.—Officers of the steamer China from Manila, which has arrived here, report that it was evident that the resistance of the Spaniards when Manila was attacked by the Americans was merely nominal and was made solely to maintain the honor of Spain. The officers talked with express the belief that the escape of Gov. Gen. Augustin, was not due to the fact that he was well understood by Adm. Dewey. A dispatch from Manila, dated August 13, says the total number of killed on the American side during the attack upon and capture of Manila was 40 and of the wounded about 100. The Spanish losses were 300 killed and 400 wounded. The Americans had planned to damage to the power of the non-combatants. The Americans had considerable difficulty in keeping the insurgents out of the city, only admitting those who were without weapons.

Five insurgents were shot while looting at Tondo. An insurgent officer became involved in a quarrel with a Spaniard in the Escota, in the Binondo suburb, during which the Spaniard fired upon the insurgent, inflicting wounds in the latter's legs. The Spaniard was arrested and imprisoned.

Gen. Merritt has issued a proclamation decreeing that the provisional government and the local authorities shall retain their offices and that everything shall remain unchanged for the present, except so far as the supreme jurisdiction is concerned. That any native who resists the present authorities shall be treated as a lawbreaker.

Gen. Jaudenes, in the course of an interview had with him by a correspondent, said he knew the fight was a hopeless one, but that he intended to resist the Americans in the name of honor, but was persuaded to surrender for the sake of the non-combatants. He begged the Americans for the humane treatment which they have shown.

The last official act of Gen. Jaudenes was to fine a journalist for speaking the truth. The journalist requested the correspondent to state that he had loyally done his best for the country. He had thrice been punished, had fought bravely as a volunteer, had been captured and released, and, further, was ready to fight again, but was satisfied to leave a government and a nation which tolerates and welcomes the Americans.

Serious trouble is threatened by the insurgents because they were prevented from having their own way. They assert that they are able to render the islands untenable for anybody.

MILITARY GOVERNMENT.

The Inhabitants of Manila Fear They Will Be Restored to Spain—Money to the Spanish Treasury.

LOXON, Aug. 22.—The Manila correspondent of the Daily Telegraph in a dispatch dated Sunday says:

"Gen. Merritt has proclaimed a government of military occupation. The news of the armistice arrived on the 10th. It is feared that the Americans may restore the Philippines to Spain and thus re-instate a fresh period of tyranny, extortion and rebellion. The American government, however, has declared that the press and religion and just administration are necessary unless under foreign supervision.

"The Americans found $300,000 in the Spanish treasury.

"Foreign opinion is loud in praise of the action of the American commander in excluding armed rebels from the city. There is good reason to believe that these firms saved Manila from plunder."

The Spanish Military Commission.

LONDON, Aug. 22.—A committee consisting of Duke Almudor de Rio, the foreign minister, Senor Rorro, the chief of staff, Gen. of war, and Capt. Correa, minister of marine, is preparing instructions for the Cuban and Porto Rican commissioners, which will be dispatched on August 31, so as to arrive within the time fixed by the protocol.

PROTECTION AGAINST FIRE.

How to Build a House That Will Really Be Fireproof.

Viewed from certain standpoints, civilization is a failure. Take fire, for instance. We are told that it is a good friend, but a bad enemy. Yet, being warned, we cannot fight it with any success.

The accepted plan is to construct a fireproof building. Framework of steel sheathing of brick or stone, floors of cement—the avoidance, in short, of every material that is combustible.

Now what happens? A spark from the porter's pipe, the end of a burning match, spontaneous combustion in a spittoon, too hasty insurance carried by a tenement, or any little thing like that, and up (or down) goes the building "like a house of cards," (Copyrighted by the author.)

These startling examples are of almost daily occurrence, yet builders never seem to see the errors of their ways. Is it not strange that so few people know how to construct a building that will resist the ravages of flame? Surely there are enough really fireproof buildings in every city to act as models.

First, it is essential that the structure should be of wood, and the parts must be dimly put together. No architectural plan should be followed. There should be narrow and dark passages, crooked stairways, uneven floors, numerous crevices and closets where rubbish can accumulate, and there must be no repairs done.

This building should be put in a neighborhood swarming with poor people, and

More than twenty manufacturers have distributed their samples to the manufacturers. What better proof of their confidence in its merits do you want? It cures piles, burns, scalds, sores, in the shortest space of time. Henry W. Ray, adjoining Post office.

MAKING HIMSELF AT HOME.

How a Hawaiian Editor Plants Himself Squarely With Uncle Sam.

Chicago Times-Herald.

A headline in a Honolulu paper announces: "Santiago Must Be Ours."

That's right, sonny; wipe your feet and come right in and take a seat at the table. Uncle Sam is not fond of difficult children. He likes them to speak right up and refer to him in the first person plural rather than in the third person singular. He likes that display of joint interest and assumption of joint authority manifested in the headlines of the Honolulu paper.

It encourages him in the belief that the assimilation of Hawaii will not be a difficult or unpleasant task, and augurs well for the future of his newly adopted child.

"Santiago must be ours" is a fine initial declaration from the youngest member of our family. By this time our youngest may have learned that Santiago is ours and is elated over the knowledge.

You have made a good beginning, Hawaii. Continue to make yourself perfectly at home.
